

Hipòlit Torró is professor of finance in the department of financial economics at the University of Valencia (Spain). He obtained a Degree in economics and business with honors and a PhD in Financial Economics at the University of Valencia and a MSc in Financial Mathematics at the Universities of Heriot-Watt and Edinburgh in Scotland. He has published articles in financial journals such as The Journal of Futures Markets, The Journal of Business Finance and Accounting, The Journal of Risk Finance, Quantitative Finance, The Journal of Energy Markets, Investigaciones Economicas, His current areas of interest are portfolio management (hedging and trading rules) and financial modelling of stock, interest rates, bonds and commodities (weather and electricity).

Web: <http://www.uv.es/torro>