

Descripción

The Law on Personal Data Protection introduces a new concept in the Republic of Macedonia, by including the right of privacy and the right of personal data protection in the country's legal system, as essential values of every modern and technologically developed society.