Submission and Evaluation of Proposals Assent Disclaimer

By pressing the following button, you accept the terms and conditions of usage of this site and more specifically :

Proposal pre-registration data

- Information used for the pre-registration and creation of a draft proposal: Your Organisation, Acronym, Short Summary, Topics/Panels/Codes etc. (Step3) and the list of participants (Step4) – can be used by the services in charge for the planning of evaluations.
- Short Summary describes briefly the purpose of the proposal with a maximum of 2,000 characters. Entering at least keywords will help the services in the planning of the evaluations. Coordinators may choose to enter 'xxx' at this stage should they prefer not disclosing any data.

Part B

- File format: For the proposal content (part B) you must use exclusively PDF ("portable document format", compatible with Adobe Acrobat version 5 or higher, with embedded fonts). Most calls allow only one PDF file comprising the complete technical annex (part B) to be uploaded. You should check the call text and Guide for Applicants for possible exceptions.
- Time constraints: Preparation and uploading of the PDF formatted part B may take some time. You should ensure that this has been completed in time, well before the call closure deadline.

Submission

- In order to be made available for evaluation, proposals must be submitted prior to the call closure deadline. Likewise, modifications to proposals or uploaded attachments are also required to be submitted prior to the call closure deadline or they will not be taken into account. Proposals may be submitted or withdrawn at any time prior to the call closure deadline. There is only ever one version of a submitted proposal, as submission over-writes the previous version.

- Is there a gender balance in the project consortium and team, at all levels and in decision-making positions?
- Do working conditions allow all members of staff to combine work and family life in a satisfactory manner?
- Are there mechanisms in place to manage and monitor gender equality aspects, e.g. workforce statistics, as required by FP7?

Gender in research content

Research ideas phase:

- If the research involves humans as research objects, has the relevance of gender to the research topic been analysed?
- If the research does not directly involve humans, are the possibly differentiated relations of men and women to the research subject sufficiently clear?
- Have you reviewed literature and other sources relating to gender differences in the research field?

Proposal phase:

- Does the methodology ensure that (possible) gender differences will be investigated: that sex/gender-differentiated data will be collected and analysed throughout the research cycle and will be part of the final publication?
- Does the proposal explicitly and comprehensively explain how gender issues will be handled (e.g. in a specific work package)?
- Have possibly differentiated outcomes and impacts of the research on women and men been considered?

Research phase:

- Are questionnaires, surveys, focus groups, etc. designed to unravel potentially relevant sex and/or gender differences in your data?
- Are the groups involved in the project (e.g. samples, testing groups) gender-balanced? Is data analysed according to the sex variable? Are other relevant variables analysed with respect to sex?

Dissemination phase:

- Do analyses present statistics, tables, figures and descriptions that focus on the relevant gender differences that came up in the course of the project?
- Are institutions, departments and journals that focus on gender included among the target groups for dissemination, along with mainstream research magazines?
- Have you considered a specific publication or event on gender-related findings?

Created within the University Research Service, the European Research Projects Office is an initiative of the University of Valencia to promote the University researchers' participation in European funding programmes. We would like to serve as contact point and support for our research units and managers who are participating –or wish to participate– in a research project funded by the European Commission.
