Outline Programme

Tuesday, 9th May
Registration and Early Reception

Wednesday, 10th May
Registration, Opening Plenary Session, Parallel Sessions, Symposia, Welcome Reception

Thursday, 11th May
Registration, Parallel Sessions, Symposia

Friday, 12th May
Registration, Parallel Sessions, Gala Dinner

Doctoral Colloquium
6th-9th May 2017
Parador de El Saler, Valencia

Organising Committee
Begoña Giner, Chair
Araceli Mora, Deputy Chair
Miguel Arce
Natividad Cervera
Juan Manuel García Lara
Beatriz García Osma
Francisca Pardo

Scientific Committee
Aljosa Valentincic, Chair
Ariela Caglio
Ralf Ewert
Helena Isidro
Martin Jacob
Carlos Larrinaga
Garen Markarian
Ann Vanstraelen

Contact information
E-mail: nicole.coopman@eiasm.be

* The scientific committee is subject to changes according to EAA rules

KEY DATES

1st December 2016: Paper submission deadline
10th February 2017: Notification to authors
27th February 2017: Deadline for Registration for authors

DOCTORAL COLLOQUIUM
6th-9th May 2017: Parador de El Saler, Valencia

www.eaa-online.org
Valencia is one of the sunniest, warmest and indeed most beautiful of Mediterranean cities. With a population of one million inhabitants, it is the third largest city in Spain. Most importantly, Valencia never ceases to surprise, from the former bed of the River Turia, which has now been converted into a delightful eleven-kilometer long garden, to the visible traces of ancient civilizations that today peacefully coexist with modern bridges and stylish buildings.

The history of Valencia spans more than two millennia. Founded by the Romans in 138 BC, it prospered greatly under the Moors between 711 and 1238 AD. Each civilization has left its mark, and Valencians are extremely proud of their rich and multi-cultural heritage. The Old Town includes the 13th century cathedral with an amazing panoramic roof tower, the splendid 15th century Gothic silk trade building (now a World Heritage Site), and two well-preserved and most impressive old city wall gates. However, Valencia also looks to the future, and the contemporary City of Arts and Sciences in the old river bed and the renovated Recreational Port area are two of the more recent jewels in the city’s crown. Indeed, no visit to the city would be complete without a daytime stroll along the riverbed, which makes up the central axis of the city.

The University of Valencia, founded in 1499, is today the result of more than five centuries of history that have led to a remarkable accumulation of knowledge and unique documentary treasures. As a modern, European public university, it features in major international rankings.

In 2017 two important events will take place, the Faculty of Economics will commemorate its 50th anniversary, while the EAA will mark its 40th anniversary. This is a timely coincidence, which we are more than happy to celebrate together.

www.eaa-online.org

Venue

The Valencia Conference Centre is situated on the major access route into the city from the north east. The Avenida de las Cortes Valencianas is one of the main avenues leading into the modern metropolis of Valencia. The Centre is ideally located. It is close to the international airport at Manises and has excellent links into the city centre by metro, bus and tram.

Main Building

Valencia Conference Centre · Palacio de Congresos de Valencia: http://www.palcongres-vlc.com/

Complementary

Hotel Meliá: http://melia.com/hotels/spain/valencia/melia-valencia/index.html

Hotel Sorolla: http://en.hotelsorollapalace.com/

Fotografías autorizadas por Turismo Convention Bureau

Getting to Valencia:

Valencia has a modern transport network comprising Manises International Airport, extensive road and rail networks, as well as one of the major ports in Europe, all providing easy access from any part of the globe. The airport is very close to the city: only 8 Km from downtown Valencia. The high-speed train (AVE) connects Valencia to Madrid in just one and a half hours.