

Amparo Roca Zamora

Senior Economist European Commission

Curriculum Vitae

Studied Economics at the Universitat de València, Faculty of Economics. She was an Associate Professor in the Department of Economic Structure for many years before becoming a European civil servant, a role she held for approximately 20 years.

She has worked as a Senior Economist in the European Commission's Brussels section: Evaluation and Impact Assessment – Unit G5, Directorate-General for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion.

She is a recognised expert in European Union institutions and the broader satellite activities they generate, which provide numerous career opportunities for junior economists.
