

Felipe Sánchez

Investment Advisor at Renta4banco

Curriculum vitae

I have a degree in Business and Administration and a PhD in Applied Economics (University of Valencia). I have completed my education with a Master in Financial Markets (FEBF) and a Management Development Program (IESE), as well as with some Summer Courses at several foreign universities such as LSE (Corporate Finance), Berkeley University (Marketing) and Georgetown University (Finance) .

I have worked in the field of financial markets and communication all my life. I started in the BMEX Group (Bolsas y Mercados Españoles, the Spanish Stock Exchange Group), and later I was fortunate to work as a host and publisher of economic contents in the RTVV group (a regional TV and radio channel), to later enter in the banking sector, where I worked in Bancaixa, Banco de Valencia and currently in renta4banco. Besides, I have been an associate professor at Florida University and currently I am associate professor at EDEM.
