The Host Company

The host company was formed in December 2010, after the founders saw an opportunity in the market for a unique catalyst screening company. They enhanced their offering to provide end-to-end, perfect-for-purpose process research and development services for all sizes of pharma organisations, worldwide, and have developed into a scientifically led and commercially minded innovation partner. In 2020, they created a network of trusted partners across the pharmaceutical supply chain, to offer strategic value to customers. Constantly evolving, this host's vision is to be a "Digital First, Intelligent Automation Next company", to free up the hands and minds of their talented scientists to solve drug development challenges. Rapidly expanding, they are seeking high calibre individuals to continue their success.
