1. WOP-P Master practices: The second-year students of the WOP-P master initiate their practice stays - this week: Natalie McCullough

Once the Winter School is finished, the second-year students of the WOP-P Master of Valencia begin their internship in different national and international companies and organizations.

For months, students have actively searched for an institution that would allow them to take an internship. For this, previously, they had to train in techniques of 'job' search (yes, job search, because the process of looking for practices is certainly a process very close to looking for a real job). In this process they have had successes and failures, but they have achieved a very important goal: to learn how to manage a difficult process, in which one has to control one's emotions to achieve success.

For a few months they will be in their companies and institutions of practices. There they will live new experiences that will allow them to be better WOP professionals. And knowing their experiences can be interesting for IDOCAL members, if they are related to any field of interest or research.

The companies and institutions in which students will perform their internships are:

- ✚ United Nations Delegation (Addis Abbeba-ETHIOPIA)
- ✚ Monroe Consulting Group (Jakarta-INDONESIA)
- ✚ ILO-International Labour Organization (Geneve-SWITZERLAND)
- ✚ OMS-university of Guelph (Guelph-CANADA)
- ✚ iWorkzone (Texas-USA)
- ✚ Plena Inclusión-ONG (Madrid-SPAIN)
- ✚ Philips Morris (Antwerpen-BELGIUM).
- ✚ Hospital Provincial (Valencia-SPAIN)
- ✚ Bulgary Hotels (London-UNITED KINGDOM)
- ✚ Flixbus (Munich-GERMANY)
- ✚ University of Baltimore (Baltimore-USA)
- ✚ Idocal (Valencia-SPAIN)
- ✚ Creative Culture-Consulting (London-UNITED KINGDOM)
- ✚ Adecco (Cork-IRELAND)
- ✚ Zartis (Cork-IRELAND)
- ✚ Hotel Sheraton, (Gran Canaria-SPAIN)

We wish all of our second-year students much success in their goals.

We open the publication of a series of short letters from the second-year students, who tell us about their internship experience. Today Natalie McCullough writes to us, from Genève, in Switzerland.

Natalie McCullough

I am Natalie McCullough, a second year student in the WOP-P Programme. I am from Indianapolis in the United States. For my internship, I am working with the International Labour Organization (ILO) in Geneva, Switzerland in the Human Resources Development department as part of the Internship Team. In this position, I am responsible for assisting in the selection and onboarding processes of new interns at the organization.

This includes working in the online recruitment system, facilitating visa procedures for international interns, working directly with department supervisors, and welcoming interns on their first day with briefing presentations. My tasks differ day by day. One day, I will be attending a conference on HR strategy and the next, I will be in a meeting to discuss how selection can foster diversity and support inclusion. As an agency of the UN, many of the conversations at the ILO surround the topic of human rights and decent work. I find this environment to be inspiring and I love conversing with people from across the world on topics that are extremely important.

I have found my work at the ILO to be challenging, but well-suited to the skills and knowledge I gained in the WOP-P Programme. I am very grateful for this opportunity and know it would not have been possible without my experience in the WOP-P Master's.

2. Master WOP-P: More than 250 applications for the scholarships for the Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in Work, Organization, and Personnel Psychology
