This information paper contains general and specific information about the Teachers' Training Faculty at the University of Valencia in Valencia (Spain), as well as the current course offer.

Valencia: the city, the environment...

Valencia is the third-largest metropolitan area of Spain. It is located on the eastern coast of the Iberian Peninsula and the western part of the Mediterranean Sea.

You can find more information about the city in its Tourism office guide¹

Valencia is the city of...

- ...the light. It is said we have 300 sunny days a year which makes life outdoors really enjoying.
- ...the Mediterranean Sea, full of golden-sand beaches waiting for you.
- ... the famous Mediterranean diet which makes eating a unique experience.
- ... music and musicians, shown in festivals, a wide range of concert halls, auditoriums and smaller venues where all kinds of musical styles can be enjoyed throughout the year. Read more in the New York Times.
- ...sustainability. We can go walking and by bike (the whole city is flat) almost everywhere. Besides, there is a complete net of public transport by underground, bus and tram.
- ...many historic events and corners, full of rich artistic heritage mainly in its old town.
- ... a lively and varied nightlife with a wide range of opportunities for young people.
- ...culture since it is famous for its architecture, City of Arts and Sciences, cultural projects and worldwide festivals, such as las the Fallas

The Faculty location and Facilities

Our Faculty is located on two campuses:

The main one is the Tarongers campus of the University of Valencia. This campus is inside the city of Valencia, in an area full of young people and life, including all kinds of restaurants, sports centres and shopping possibilities.

As shown in the picture, the Teachers Training Faculty (Facultat de Magisterio) (1) is next to the education library Maria Moliner (2) and the campus restaurant (3). There are Tram, bus and public bikes stops to take students anywhere in the city (4). This Faculty also offers:

- An indoor sports centre.
- 3 Full equipped sciences lab.
- 4 full-equipped music classrooms.
- 3 computer/multimedia rooms.
- An audio-visual laboratory.
- Students area for individual and group work.
- 44 full-of-light classrooms provided with white board, projector screen and computer.

The extended campus is located in Ontinyent, about 80 km from Valencia. The UV Campus Ontinyent includes the Early Childhood Teacher Degree, having the same curriculum as in the Valencia Campus. More information www.uv.es/ontinyent

The Campus is composed of two buildings:

- The historic building. It is an ancient school of the Spanish Republic period. It contains all the facilities for students and teachers: the secretary, the library, the head office, teachers' rooms, seminars, the dining room, the Aula Magna and spaces for meetings.
- The inter facultative classroom. It is a modern building of recent construction. It includes 19 classrooms, including specific laboratories in the areas of science, music and body expression, art and computer rooms.

Our Master's Degree in Research in Specific Didactics (MUIDE)

The MUIDE provides advanced research training in the specializations of Teaching Visual Arts, Experimental, and Social Science, Physical Education, Language and Literature, Mathematics, and Music. For this, the MUIDE counts on teaching staff recognised for their long research careers and their international prestige. The MUIDE is preferably aimed at: i) Teachers of non-university educational levels who wish to complete their training by acquiring researching competencies, which allow them to perform innovatively or researching educational actions for improving their teaching practice; ii) University graduates who wish to start or continue their university academic career in the areas of knowledge or departments related to the specialities of the MUIDE. After completing the MUIDE successfully, you will have the knowledge and tools of research to be able to access the Doctorate of Specific Didactics of the University of Valencia or equivalent doctorates from other universities.
