SUMMARY

The purpose of the subject is to provide students with basic general knowledge about the main issues that make up educational policy, its essential principles, the doctrinal and ideological structure and the factors that condition it, relating it to the Spanish reality. It seeks to provide you with the concepts, elements of judgment and analysis tools necessary to know, describe, understand and examine education policy in general.

Likewise, it aims to develop a whole series of skills that allow students to investigate the keys to educational policy and construct their own critical analysis of the contents of the subject program.

TEACHING METHODOLOGY

Depending on the objectives and each of the contents, various procedures and work methods may be used, which may include the following:

- Teacher explanation
- Reading of materials set by the teacher
- Text analysis, problem solving and case analysis
- Individual or group work
- Exhibitions and debates

The teacher will explain the main contents of each topic, which will be complemented with practical activities to which time will be dedicated to determine each week.

Likewise, students will be able to carry out any type of work or contribution, individually or in groups, to analyze and work on the contents of the subject, after consultation and agreement with the teacher.

EVALUATION

The assessment of the course will include a continuous assessment -not recoverable in the second call- (which will mean 40% of the final grade), and another of sufficiency through a test or written exam (which will mean 60% of the final score).

The evaluation will include:

- Practical activities in which, in addition to the criteria indicated below, active participation in the development of the subject will be especially valued.
- The theoretical contents will be evaluated through the general performance test (exam) indicated in the Center's calendar.
- All the contents worked on in the development of the subject will be the subject of the same.
- The value of the qualifications of the sections in which, if it is the case, the continuous evaluation and the written exam are subdivided, will be set by each professor in their specific programming at the beginning of each course.

Evaluation criteria. All the information that can be evaluated will be based on the following criteria:

- Theoretical foundation
- Understanding of the above
- Methodological rigor
- Conceptual precision
- Synthesis capacity
- Clarity in exposure
- Personal elaboration, including critical elements and well-founded arguments
- Expository correction
- Bibliographic / documentary foundation

Given the purpose of the subject, with regard to individual or group work, students must refrain from doing any practice related to plagiarism in any of its meanings and whatever its format: books, magazines, printed matter, documents, etc. All the documentation used, printed or electronic, must be treated with the appropriate appointment system.

REGULATIONS FRAUDULENT ACTS AND USE OF THE IAG

Fraudulent conduct in assessment tests and plagiarism in assessment work will be considered in accordance with the UV Assessment and Grading Regulations (ACGUV 108/2017) and the Protocol for Action against Fraudulent Practices (ACGUV 123/2020).

The use of technologies (including AI) to create assessment materials without prior and express authorization from the teaching staff will prevent them from being considered as self-authored and will be treated according to current regulations and the UV Code of Coexistence and Good Practices (ACGUV 300/2023, DOGV, no. 9747/18.12.2023).
