SUMMARY

- Minor course in "Portuguese Language and its Literatures" (6 ECTS credits, 4th year, 2nd semester).
 - 1) Development of communication skills in the Portuguese language (oral and written comprehension, oral expression and interaction, and written production). CEFR level B2.
 - 2) Grammar of the Portuguese language: phonetics and phonology, morphology, syntax, lexicon and semantics. The study of grammar will be deepened as communication skills develop. CEFR level B2.

3) Development of the cultural knowledge of "lusofonia".

This subject especially takes into account SDG 3: "Ensure healthy lives and promote well-being for all at all ages", SDG 4: "Ensure inclusive, equitable and quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all" and SDG 5, and, specifically, contributes to "Ending all forms of discrimination against all women and girls around the world".

- This course is designed not only for students to acquire basic knowledge of the Portuguese language, but also to develop as global citizens who are aware of and committed to the principles of sustainability and equity

TEACHING METHODOLOGYTeaching manual:

Ferreira, Ana Maria Bayan and Bayan, Helena José, Na Onda do Português 3, Lisbon-Porto, Lidel, 2012.

A) Face-to-face learning activities: the face-to-face teaching consists of four weekly sessions that combine theoretical explanations with oral and written practice, which will complement and reinforce the theoretical classes.

A strict methodological separation between theory and practice will not be established. The theoretical descriptions are aimed at developing and strengthening the practice of the four communicative skills: listening and reading comprehension, and oral and written expression.

1) Theoretical classes: on each of the topics of the program, following the development specified for each one of them in the agenda. The teacher will expose the essential contents and explain the way in which they should be approached by the student.

2) Practical activities: the practical part is aimed at developing relevant linguistic and communication skills and oral and written comprehension of the Portuguese language through appropriate exercises in this regard. Reading, pronunciation, comprehension, and oral and written expression exercises will be carried out. The student will previously prepare the exercises, which will be corrected and explained in class.

3) Other activities: Tutorials to resolve doubts that may arise both in theoretical and practical classes, as well as to guide the understanding of the readings done in class or in carrying out other activities related to the course contents.

B) Non face-to-face learning activities: independent study and work aimed at preparing for classes and exams.

EVALUATION

The evaluation will consist of three different parts (1st and 2nd call):

Evaluation	type % of final
Final exam:
a) Written exam	50%
b) Oral exam	25%
c) Attendance, participation and personal work	25%

The note obtained in part C will be valid for both calls: non-recoverable activity.

The written exam will be theoretical-practical and will consist of questions about the contents specified in the syllabus and exercises similar to those explained and carried out in class.

The oral exam will consist of 2 parts:

1st Part: it will be carried out in pairs and will consist of a simulation of a communicative situation, based on previous indications given by the teacher.

2nd Part: individually, each student must develop 1 theme (selected at random) from those proposed in the program/manual Na Onda do Português 3.

The preferred object of evaluation for the subject "Portuguese Language 4" will be the development of communication skills (level B2 of the CEFR).

Knowledge of grammar (phonetics and phonology, morphology, syntax, vocabulary and semantics) will be assessed through tests on the theory or its practical application.

An evaluation of all communication skills will be carried out.

Evaluation criteria

Theory

Acquisition of the grammatical knowledge specified in the subject's agenda.

Practices

Acquisition and development of communication skills in Portuguese (oral and written comprehension and oral and written expression). B2 CEFR level.

Intellectual honesty is vital in academic communities, and for the fair evaluation of student work. All works presented in this course they must be of original authorship. Work will not be accepted in the making use of fraudulent collaboration or composition with the help of artificial intelligence (ChatGPT or others), except if its use is part of the contents of the subject and is authorized by the teaching staff who imparts.

The general grading system will follow the regulations of the University of Valencia, approved by the Governing Council on May 30, 2017. ACGUV 108/2017.
