TEACHING METHODOLOGY

Basic methodology of teaching units. The teaching units are based on a combination of the following teaching techniques: a) Master Lesson b) Documentation of current, c) Proposed exercises d) conceptual network of each UD.

The methodology is based on virtual classroom tutorials via email. Be made individually in the email address of each teacher of the module, at fixed times for the purpose.

EVALUATION

The evaluation will be carried out following the general guidelines of the Master's program. In this subject, the particularities will be the following:

Part 1. Continuous evaluation (40%): active participation in the sessions and completion and delivery of individual or group work, proposed in the classroom (resolution of cases, exercises, text comments, etc.).

Final evaluation (60%): completion of an evaluation test consisting of an individual work that addresses the fundamental contents of the course. The specific characteristics will be indicated in the classroom.

For the sum of grades will be necessary that each of the parts is approved, that is to say, at least 5 points out of 10 have been obtained.

This Master is face-to-face, so the Continuous Evaluation requires active participation in class and it will not be possible to miss more than two class sessions. The person who has had more absences in a justified way, must request an alternative test.

Policy for the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI). A paragraph should be included at the end of any task that uses Artificial Intelligence, explaining what it has been used for and what instructions have been applied to obtain the results. Failure to do so will violate the academic honesty policy and will be considered plagiarism. In fact, according to article 11.g of Law 3/2022, of February 24th, on university coexistence, regarding ChatGPT, it shall be considered a very serious offense to fully or partially plagiarize a work, or engage in academic fraud in the preparation of any assignment or activity requested of the students. Academic fraud shall be understood as any deliberate behavior aimed at falsifying the results of an exam or assignment, whether it is one's own or someone else's (including the improper use of artificial intelligence such as ChatGPT), carried out as a requirement to pass a subject or demonstrate academic performance.
