TEACHING METHODOLOGY

THEORETICAL CLASSES: Throughout these classes, teachers will explain and explain the fundamental aspects that will guide the student in the study and understanding of the different contents of the subject.

PRACTICAL CLASSES: In the development of these classes various practical activities will be carried out with the aim of applying the acquired theoretical knowledge.

The necessary materials for the development of each practice will be provided in a timely manner by the teachers.

PREPARATION OF THE THEORETICAL AND/PRACTICAL CLASSES: Readings: For the preparation of the theoretical classes and in order to deepen concrete aspects of particular importance in relation to the different topics that make up the program, the student will be able to perform various readings. The texts to be read and the evaluation procedures used in each case will be indicated by the teachers.

IMPLEMENTATION OF PRACTICES AND COMPLEMENTARY ACTIVITIES: In order to complete the activities developed in the theoretical and practical classes, students will solve, individually or in group, a series of practical assumptions from a series of materials to be provided by teachers. The resolution of the various assumptions will be delivered to the teachers on the date that will be communicated by the teachers. In the same way, several complementary activities will be carried out that will be specified at the beginning of the course. The evaluation procedures used for each of these activities will be announced in due course by the teachers.

COMPLETION OF THE SUBJECT WORK: The student will do a work on a topic related to any of the aspects that the subject is about. This work will serve to evaluate the whole subject. The student will address one of the teachers responsible for teaching in the subject "Cultural Heritage and its Management", who will decide whether or not to accept the student's proposal and will indicate the characteristics of the work to be done. TUTORIALS: Teachers will invite students to academic orientation interviews -personal and/or group- aimed at promoting the student's autonomous learning by solving specific problems, commenting on the recommended bibliography, etc.

EVALUATION

COMPLETION OF THE SUBJECT WORK: The student will carry out a work on a topic related to any of the aspects on which the different subjects of the Subject deal. The work will be directed by a teacher of any of the subjects of the Subject that will be in charge of the evaluation of the same. The evaluation procedures used for each of these activities will be announced in due course by the teachers. The student will complete the work in the Virtual Aula, within the deadlines that appear in the table included in the General Information provided to the students of the Master. The work constitutes 70% of the final grade. It will only be averaged if the work has obtained a minimum grade of Pass (equal to or greater than 5 out of 10).

IMPLEMENTATION OF COMPLEMENTARY PRACTICES AND ACTIVITIES: In order to complete the activities developed in the theoretical and practical classes, various complementary activities and specialized conferences will be held, which will be specified at the beginning of the course. Class attendance, conference and complementary activities with use: 30% of the total grade. The composition of the final note shall, in summary, take account of the following percentage:

Subject work: 70%

Class attendance, conferences and follow-up activities 30%

TOTAL: 100%
