

INFORMATION ON ANNEX 3 IN RELATION TO THE PROJECTS FUNDED BY THE RESILIENCE AND RECOVERY FACILITY (hereinafter, RRF)

On 21 July 2020, the European Council agreed on an exceptional temporary recovery instrument known as NextGenerationEU to guarantee a European response, coordinated with Member States, to the economic and social consequences of the pandemic.

At the core of this instrument lies the Recovery and Resilience Facility (RRF) through which a total of €672.5 billion will be made available to Member States. It aims to support investment and reforms in Member States to achieve a sustainable and resilient recovery, while promoting the EU's green and digital transition.

Each Member State must design a National Recovery and Resilience Plan that includes the reforms and investment projects necessary to achieve these objectives.

The Recovery, Transformation and Resilience Plan of the Spanish economy envisages the mobilisation of more than 140,000 million euros in public investment until 2026 in order to boost recovery and achieve the greatest possible countercyclical impact.

Many of the projects being developed at the University of Valencia are part of the Recovery, Transformation and Resilience Plan and are therefore financed with RRF funds. The justification of the expenses of these projects necessarily implies compliance with the European and Spanish regulations that are specifically applicable to them, which you can consult here: https://mpt.gob.es/prtr/normativa_y_guias.html

Specifically, Order HFP/1030/2021, of 29 September, configuring the management system of the Recovery, Transformation and Resilience Plan, requires that both the companies awarded the contracts and the personnel responsible for RRF projects complete and sign a declaration of commitment to the principles of the Plan and a declaration of transfer and processing of data, which we attach here. This document is unique to each RRF project and supplier, so it will only be required for the first contract in that area.

We apologise for any inconvenience caused by these bureaucratic procedures and are at your disposal at gestiomrr@uv.es for any question that you may have.

We await your response to our request. Sincerely,
