

Marta Fortes is an Associate Teacher at the Modern Language and Applied Linguistics (MLAL) School at the University of Limerick. Currently completing a PhD focusing on using technology and virtual exchanges to teach Spanish for Specific Purposes, including the integration of virtual reality environments with international universities. With expertise in curriculum development for Business Language Studies (BLS), Marta's work emphasizes fostering 21st-century skills such as leadership, communication, intercultural competence, and environmental awareness. She coordinates Spanish for Business (Advanced) modules and delivers courses taught in English as the medium of instruction, such as Language and Technology. Marta has extensive experience supervising undergraduate and Master's projects, leading innovative international initiatives, and designing immersive educational experiences.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-8097-6254>

LinkedIn:

https://ie.linkedin.com/in/marta-fortes-saez?original_referer=https%3A%2F%2Fwww.google.com%2F