INTERNATIONAL Credit mobility week

MARCH 4-8 2019

“Internationalizing Higher Education Institutions beyond the European borders”

→ Submissions deadline 20th January 2019.

The University of Valencia is pleased to announce the celebration of the 2nd International Credit Mobility Week.

The International Week will be organized 4-8 March 2019 in Valencia. The topic of the week will be “Internationalizing Higher Education Institutions beyond the European borders”.

The goals of this Staff week are

- Raising awareness concerning the strategic importance of becoming international in a global world.
- Raising awareness about a comprehensive internationalization (CI) and this demanding need in our current and future times.
- Identifying the main hurdles to achieve CI and overcoming them within the KA107 Erasmus+ programme frame.
- Proposing academic and administrative methods & procedures to kick off and improve the Key Action 107.

Both teaching and administrative staff are welcome to participate in the week. The program of the week will consist of several KA107 specific work sessions for all participants, as well as networking opportunities.

Also cultural activities and excursions will be offered to the participants of the International Week.

Registration for the International Week will start on 20th December 2018 and run until 20th January 2019.

Don't forget that this mobility is funded by Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility Programme! Please, check with your International Relations Office the participation requirements.

Welcome to Valencia

Spain's third-largest city is a magnificent place, content for Madrid and Barcelona to grab the headlines while it gets on with being a wonderfully liveable city with thriving cultural, eating and nightlife scenes. Never afraid to innovate, Valencia diverted its flood-prone river to the outskirts of town and converted the former riverbed into a superb green ribbon of park winding right through the city. On it are the strikingly futuristic buildings of the Ciudad de las Artes y las Ciencias, designed by local boy Santiago Calatrava. Other brilliant contemporary buildings grace the city, which also has a fistful of fabulous Modernista architecture, great museums and a large, characterful old quarter. Valencia, surrounded by its huerta, a fertile fruit-and-veg farmland, is famous as the home of rice dishes such as paella, but its buzzy dining scene offers plenty more besides.

Information

Language

There are two official languages in Valencia: "Valenciano", used in the Valencian Community, and Spanish, Spain's official language.

There are centres that offer specialised classes, practical training and cultural activities; in addition, they can help students with finding housing. The Association of Spanish Schools in the Valencian Region (AMEELE) brings together Spanish schools in the city of Valencia which are accredited by the Instituto Cervantes. www.ameele.net

Banks

Most banks are open from Monday to Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Only a few branches open on Saturday mornings. There are 24- hour automatic tellers around the city, and most (Servired, 4B, etc.) offer international services.

Time zone

People generally eat later than in other European countries: breakfast (7:30 and 10:00 a.m.) is similar to the continental style.

Restaurants serve lunch between 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m., and dinner from 8:30 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

Now you can go shopping in Valencia any day of the year. Although normal shop opening hours are from 10 am to 8.30 pm, you will find malls and shops in tourist areas that are open every day, including Sundays and public holidays (except 1 and 6 January, 1 May and 25 December).

Credit cards

Most hotels, restaurants and shops in Valencia accept the main credit cards such as American Express, VISA, Mastercard, 4B, Access y Diners Club.

Tipping

Tips are included in all prices and bills, so tipping is not considered obligatory. However, if the service received is considered satisfactory, especially in bars and restaurants, a tip is often left.

Electricity

Standard electrical voltage in Valencia is 220-240 V AC, 50 Hz. A transformer and an adapter are necessary to use North American electrical appliances whose plugs have two square pins. Adapters are available in most hardware stores.

Weather

Valencia enjoys a mild temperate Mediterranean climate. The average annual temperature is 17°C with warm summers and very mild winters, rarely below 10°C. There is only light rainfall mainly in autumn and the beginning of spring.

Exchanging money

RIA Money Transfer & Change: Currency exchange, traveller's checks and money transfers. Centrally located in the main European cities. Convento de Jerusalén, 9 46007 - Valencia Tel.:+34 963 525 383 www.riaagent.com esfx@riafinancial.com

By car

- From the centre of Spain and city of Madrid, A-3 highway.
- From Barcelona and Castellón, N-340 and A-7 (exit 51), called Autopista del Mediterráneo (Highway of the Mediterranean Sea), because it connects the coast with the european net of highways.
- From Zaragoza and Teruel, N-224.
- From Alicante and Murcia, N-332, and A-7 along the coast.
- Through the "interior" route, N-430 and N-330, which cross in the North-South direction the province of Valencia.

For any advice about the state of the roads, contact the Dirección General de Tráfico.

By bus

The Valencia Bus Station, located in the West zone of the city, has lines with the main spanish and european cities.

From the central station, the best way to access other points in the city is by bus or underground (there is a stop 200m from the station), or by taxi.

By train

Located in the centre of the city, the Norte Railway Station of Valencia offers direct connection with the main spanish and european cities. There are daily services with Madrid, Barcelona, Sevilla, Alicante, Port Bou (French border), Zaragoza, Bilbao and trains to other provinces.

The towns around the city are also connected by means of any of the local railway stations.
